

Car hi-fi at it's best

VIABLUETM meets Denis Mlivic

Soon after being trained as a car mechanic, Denis decided to found his own company. His passion for car hi-fi dates back to the 80s, so it was about time. How can a perfect sound be transferred from a wide stage to the inside of a "regular" car? His answer: By professionally combining and modifying high quality components.

His 1st place at several sound competitions is living proof of Denis' expertise. He believes that VIABLUETM cables are an optimal additon to his car and home hi-fi set-ups.
